

ELEVENTH HOUR ART

GIRLHOOD

A solo show featuring the paintings of Ginger Snow

Sept 9—24, with an opening reception Saturday, September 9 from 6—9pm.

Eleventh Hour Art: 61 Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn, NY 11201

Eleventh Hour Art is pleased to present GIRLHOOD, a solo exhibition featuring the paintings of Ginger Snow. Snow is an oil painter born and raised in Brooklyn, currently working between New York City and Berlin. Snow's evocative works explore the complexities of girlhood. Through glimpses of fleeting moments, Snow creates visual tension that feels simultaneously intimate and voyeuristic. As you walk through the gallery, you become both a peer of her subjects and an observer. Grounded in realism with nuanced moments of surrealism, Snow makes you both nostalgic for a past innocence, and acutely aware of your adult perspective. As the figures play, explore, and rest, they seem to ask: do you remember your own complicated relationship with girlhood? Or should you even be looking at all?
